NYAL'S FACE CREAM

(THE CREAM SUPREME)

BE GOOD TO YOUR COMPLEXION

Keep the face attractively young. Use Nyal's Face Cream (with peroxide), it's antiseptic and being greaseless is readily absorbed by the skin. Though Nyal's Face Cream is vastly superior to all others, it costs no more than the rest. Yes, it's just the right thing for chapped skin, cracked lips, freckles, tan and sunburn. Particular people insist on getting Nyal's Face Cream—it's better than the rest.

Then, too—the odor of Nyal's Face Cream is dainty and delicately refined. Nyal's Face Cream cleanses the pores, nourishes the skin and leaves it soft and velvety. Thousands of women and men who know through experience, say: "For your complexion's sake use—Nyal's Face Cream." It's sold in two sizes—25 and 50 cents. Get this delightful cream at our store. We have the Nyal agency. Take home a jar with you tonight.

MAY ORDER TRAINS HELD WHILE PASSENGERS BUY TICKETS

Oklahoma City, Sept. 4.—Another step toward making the 2-cent passenger rate more beneficial was taken by the corporation commission Tuesday when a proposed order was issued requiring all railroad companies to stop passenger trains, inbound and outbound, at the station on their respective lines nearest the state boundary line long enough to permit the purchase of tickets.

The hearing to make the order permanent will be before the commission on September 13.

If this order is made effective it is expected to clear up about the only troublesome situation the state has had to deal with in connection with the 2-cent rate agreement. Under the present conditions if a passenger buys a through ticket from some point in Oklahoma to a point in another state he is required to pay 3 cents a mile for the entire distance, the 2-cent rate not being an interstate agreement.

The only way this can be avoided in the opinion of the corporation commission, is for interstate passengers leaving points in Oklahoma to purchase tickets to the last station in Oklahoma on the line they propose to travel, then get off the train and purchase another ticket to their destination. This will give them the advantage of the 2-cent rate all the way in Oklahoma. The same plan can be followed by passengers coming into the state.

This is being done now on some roads but it is the object of the commission to issue an order covering the situation and which will require all roads to stop all trains, whether local or through trains, at the station nearest the state line and within the state.

HUERTA MAY CONSENT TO STAND ASIDE

Mexico City, Sept. 3.—That General Huerta intends to quit the presidency in favor of General Geronimo Trevino and become a candidate at the October elections is the statement made Wednesday night by a well known Mexican close to the administration.

General Trevino is making his way to the capital and little effort has been made to disguise the fact that he has been officially summoned. Just how the contemplated succession is to be brought about, has not been disclosed.

There are persistent rumors of impending changes in the cabinet and it is said that General Trevino is to be made minister of foreign relations.

The American exodus appears to be practically at an end. Only a small percentage of the American residents of the capital have left. Consul General Shanklin has been advised that the Mexican steamship Tamaulipas will leave Vera Cruz Sunday for New Orleans, carrying a number of Americans in the first and second cabins. Consul Canada at Vera Cruz has been authorized to pay $25 in gold in behalf of each passenger. The first-class passage is $50 and second-class $30.

KATY AGENTS WILL MEET HERE SEPT. 14

On the 14th inst. the Oklahoma District Agents Association of the M. K. and T. will be held at Ada. Special subjects to be discussed will be "Routing Orders, Value Of"; "Solicitation of Business, and Advertising Freight Business, or the Best Manner to Advertise Using Agent's Name." Cotton handling is another question that will be considered.

This will be an important meeting of the agents and as they will be here from everywhere they are entitled to every courtesy the citizen of the city can show them.

More Thoroughbreds at Auction.

New York, Sept. 4.—Another notable sale of thoroughbred race horses was opened today at Sheepshead Bay. The lot to go under the hammer embraces the entire Ramapo Stud, the property of the late Charles Kohler. Many former champion race horses are destined to change ownership as a result of the dispersal sale, among them the famous Uncle, formerly the property of John E. Madden. Others on the list are Master Robert, Charles Edward, Zeus, and Superman.

BORAH WAS ENGAGED TO MARRY WICHITA WOMAN

Wichita, Kas., Sept. 4.—W. A. Borah, the real estate agent who is in jail at Ardmore, Okla., in connection with the death of his wife and twelve-year-old daughter at Tishomingo, Ok., last Saturday morning, and the burning of his house, was engaged to marry Miss Ethel Hewey, daughter of W. E. Hewey, deputy county treasurer of Sedwick county, she asserts. Hewey is wealthy.

Sheriff J. M. Williams of Tishomingo, Okla., came here today to pick up the Wichita end of the case.

Miss Hewey told the sheriff today that she had planned to marry Borah September 15, and showed him her wedding gowns. It was her first romance. She will make a deposition in the case. Recently she resigned her place as demonstrator with the Loose-Wiles company of Kansas City and came home to prepare for her wedding.

Borah, who is thirty-one years old, was connected with the Baird Real Estate company of Sapulpa, Okla. He was widely known in Tishomingo and had been mayor there. His wife was a social leader. They were Kentuckians. He had heavy insurance on his house.

Indians Now Learning Trades.

Lawrence, Kas., Sept. 4.—Nearly 200 new Indian students from the five civilized tribes in Oklahoma enrolled today at the opening of the term at Haskell Institute. The number of newcomers is considerably in excess of any previous year and is taken as an indication that the Indians are beginning to appreciate the advantage of a vocational training.

Royalty at Gathering of the Clans.

Edinburgh, Sept. 4.—The King and Queen motored today from Balmoral Castle to Braemar to attend the gathering of the clans, of which even the King is the chief patron. The gathering is the most important fete day in the highlands and never fails to attract a brilliant attendance. The scene presented of men in tartans and women in smart gowns, sashed with the colors of the different clans, is most picturesque.

Apple Pie Carnival.

Rifle, Colo., Sept. 4.—Hundreds of visitors came to Rifle today to enjoy the festivities of the annual Apple Pie carnival. Originally conceived as a celebration of the abundant apple crops of this section, the carnival has developed this year into a two-day celebration, with an attractive program of racing, bucking and roping contests, baseball and other sports. In addition there is a fine exhibit of livestock, fruit, vegetable and farm products. The managers still adhere to the original custom of furnishing apple pie free to every visitor.

Peace Service at Portsmouth.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 4.—The annual "Peace Service" will be held here tomorrow in Christ Church. The holding of the memorial began one year after the signing of the Peace of Portsmouth in 1905, which ended the war between Japan and Russia. Ever since then, on the same day and hour five o'clock in the afternoon, a commemorative service has been held as much as possible like the original one.

THAW LOSES HIS CASE

WILL LIKELY BE TAKEN BACK TO MATTEAWAN ASYLUM—HELD AT BORDER.

Coaticook, Quebec, Sept. 3.—Harry Kendall Thaw, tried out of the Sherbrooke jail on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by a coup of William Travers Jerome, enjoyed three minutes of liberty this afternoon and was then seized by the Dominion immigration authorities and hustled by automobile to this little town, where tonight he paced the floor of the immigration detention room. Tomorrow morning a special board of inquiry will sit on his case and by night he may be thrust across the Vermont border as an undesirable alien. It was generally predicted tonight that before many hours Thaw would be back in the Matteawan Asylum, from which he escaped Sunday, August 17.

The beginning of the end of Thaw's refuge in Canada came with dramatic swiftness. A writ of habeas corpus sued out last Saturday at the direction of Jerome, with John Boudreau, Chief of Police of this village, as petitioner, was sustained at 2:45 o'clock so small that it is not sufficient to supply the demand of the state for two weeks. Much disappointment is expressed at the state agricultural department, where the principal effort of the past year has been the preaching of the doctrine of diversification. Instead of planting a variety of crops the farmers generally have placed their entire reliance in cotton. Fortunately the cotton crop this year is good and no great inconvenience will be felt, as money will be plentiful and the farmers can afford to pay the price asked for northern potatoes. More general diversification is expected next year, however, as even the most sanguine cotton farmer does not hope for four big cotton years in succession.

But he did not rise. W. K. McKeown of his counsel leaned over, and patting him on the shoulder, whispered. Thaw raised his big staring eyes and stood up. Immigration officers moved near him and then Thaw began slowly to move to the door. At the threshold Assistant Superintendent Robertson of the Immigration Bureau said simply, "Come with us, Mr. Thaw."

And without a word except for a hoarse good-bye to the reporters, Thaw obeyed. Five minutes later a gray roadster streaked away from the court house. In the back seat was Thaw. He had not even been given time to pack his scanty belongings and voluminous correspondence in his cell. In an hour he was here in Coaticook, guarded in the detention room by two stalwart Dominion police. None but counsel was allowed to see him.

The board of inquiry which will determine whether Thaw will be deported organized tonight. Dr. Raymond Kieb, superintendent of Matteawan is here, and doubtless will be called Thursday morning to testify as to Thaw's detention in an institution for the insane.

A quick verdict is expected, though Thaw's lawyers probably will appeal to a Dominion Chief Justice. Their chief worry tonight was the absence of any directing head of the Thaw family and the family's apparent lack of interest in the case.

The New York authorities, on the other hand, have arranged everything on the other side of the border, even down to distributing Deputy Sheriffs and automobiles. It would not surprise Thaw's lawyers if once across the line, he were put bodily into a car and headed straight for the New York line. There is basis for this suggestion in the fact that John Lanyon, a private detective, has been made a "special attendant" of Matteawan and in this capacity, it is claimed, would be authorized to handle Thaw as an escaped lunatic.

Rather Buy Than Raise Potatoes.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 4.—Despite the fact that central Alabama has a soil splendidly adapted to the growing of Irish potatoes, the late crop which is now being gathered is Having put another one over Thaw Attorney Jerome will probably consider himself of large enough caliber to make the race for governor of New York.

Scientists assert that the earth gains a few tons in weight every year from the ashes of meteors which are attracted from their orbits to the earth's embrace. Gratifying information for any man having an ambition to own the earth.

Again Lieutenant Governor McAlester offers to do the right thing by going along with the governor if he desires to be present when the battleship Oklahoma is launched. Nothing small about McAlester. He would not be the means of depriving the governor of a pleasure.

The News regrets that the county commissioners do not see their way clear to make an appropriation of $500 for a farm demonstration agent. The national government pays half the salary and the citizens of Ada and the commercial club have been paying the other half since an agent was placed here two years ago. It is money well spent and the taxpayers would receive much more than that in return.

Washington News Notes.

Plans for a $4,000,000 bridge that would link the capital with Virginia, it was announced, are being considered by the house commerce committee.

Representative Levy of New York has introduced a resolution to direct the attorney general to suspend further proceedings in the federal dissolution suit against the United States Steel Corporation.

Government ownership and operation of all street railroads in the District of Columbia was proposed in a bill by Representative Crosser of Ohio who has been active in street railway problems in Cleveland.

In spite of the flurry with Japan over the passage of the California alien land bill, the exports to Japan in the fiscal year just ended were greater than those to all other countries of Asia combined. The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce furnished detailed figures to substantiate the declaration.

PROFESSOR IN STATE UNIVERSITY DIES

Madison, Wis., Sept. 3.—Chester C. Wells, who had expected to depart this week for Norman, Okla., to become professor in the newly organized school of journalism of the University of Oklahoma, died in the general hospital here late Tuesday night following an operation for throat trouble. He had been sick only a few days previous to his death.

The home of Wells was in Freeport, Ill., where he was prominent in newspaper work. He also had been connected with other daily papers in Illinois and was graduated last June from the University here with the degree of bachelor of arts. He had specialized in journalism.

Wells was one of the most prominent students in the University of Wisconsin last year. He was editor of the college publication and a member of the Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternity. In May he was elected national president of the fraternity. The body will be sent to Freeport for burial.

Byron Sledge, who had an arm broken Tuesday while cranking an auto, is reported to be improving nicely and doing as well as could be hoped for. Cotton continues to go up slowly, the best price on the streets of Ada today being 13c. Seed cotton brought as high as 4.60.

EXCUSES INDEXED.

"Husbands" was the pleasing subject under discussion, while the two ladies sat gently sipping Chinese tea and nibbling creamy cakes.

"Oh, my husband is funny!" cried one of the fair damsels. "He has such awfully amusing excuses when he comes home late."

"Let's hear," said the other, pouring another cup of tea.

"Well, he's a maniac on system, you know. He has everything tabulated—at least as much as he can—and he's even had a lot of excuses written out and numbered them."

"No!"

"Yes; and when he does a little staying out late he just shouts up the stairs: 'I say, darling, it's No. 2, or 6, or 24; just as the case may be.'—Philadelphia Record.

Demand and Supply.

It had been a habit with Algy, who was now a senior, to approach the pater for extra money.

"My father never gave me half as much as I allow you," said the much-imposed-upon parent angrily, one morning when his son's demands had been particularly excessive.

"Where you satisfied?"

"Certainly I was."

"Then why should he?"—Lippincott's.

COULDN'T LOSE THE CHANCE.

Mrs. Wiggs—My husband always remembers my birthday and our wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Diggs—I should think you would positively hate him.

Quick Returns.

The mushroom springs up over night; Its growth doth never stop, And I maintain that this is quite The proper kind of crop.

Hope.

"You have been condemned to be shot at sunrise," said the friendly guard.

"Well," replied the Mexican prisoner, "I'm willing to take a chance on formal marksmanship. But don't let anybody send a rescue party for me."

A Big Drop.

"It's all in knowing how to sell," explained the manager.

"So?"

"Yes; first you offer 'em this set of Shakespeare at $100. If they shudder at that, try 'em with this patent corkscrew at 15 cents."

Their Locality.

"Did you ever hear of a man who knew how to manage a woman?"

"Lots of them."

"Then why don't they show other men how to do it?"

"Because they're all locked up in lunatic asylums."

A Grave Danger.

"Madam, your pet Pekinese spaniel bit one of the children on the street in the face this morning."

"Good heavens, my poor little dog! I know none of the children about here have their faces antiseptically washed."

ALL THE VIRTUES.

First Girl (at seashore)—I don't care what kind of a husband I get.
Second Girl—Gracious!
First Girl—So long as he's rich, handsome, kind and generous.

Located.

Where, oh, where is Easy Street, That street of such renown? It is the leading boulevard Of busy Hustle Town.

No Storms?

She—This paper says that in one year 4,472 hours of sunshine are possible. That can't be, can it, dear?
He—Oh, yes; just wait 'til we're married, dear!

Wanted to Be Director.

"Are you for direct primaries?" demanded the reporter.
"I am if I can direct them," promptly replied the boss.

SEEMED TO BE ENOUGH

By NELLIE CRAVEY GILLMORE.

She had long yellow curls that looked like glistening columns of gold, bobbing in the sunlight when she walked, or lying in rich satin abundance all over her little fluffy shoulders when she was still. Her eyes were big and round and peculiarly blue—like twin cornflowers—and there were perpetual discs of pink in the small oval cheeks.

The day was hot to sultriness, the sun beating upon the lake with fierce intensity and transforming it into a great sparkling pool of melted metal.

Winifred hurried down the road as fast as her long, white-stockinged legs would carry her, the big sun hat—scarlet with poppies—flying back from her head by its muslin ribbons. She found a tempting tuft of grass in the shadow of a giant water oak, and sat down to eat her lunch. When she had finished, she crossed her hands to her lap, and sat gazing out across the lake with suddenly tired, absent eyes. She heard the village clock strike two—then three—and all at once, the water began to dance and shimmer and grow black before her eyes. A horrible dizziness settled over her, and she flung herself down on the cool, grateful grass and closed her eyes. Then came oblivion.

When the little girl came back to earth again she was lying in her own bed with the pretty canopy of blue satin, and the cloudy white draperies all around. She felt numb and stiff and listless, and when she opened her lips to speak, her voice sounded so tiny and far away. Many days passed before she was allowed to sit up, and hear all about herself and the grave, kind man who had rescued her.

"I should like so much to see him and to—thank him," said Winifred one day—the first she spent out of bed.

"You may," replied her aunt, "for he is here right now. He was very ill himself that day. The heat played him an even more serious trick than it did you."

So the little girl was wheeled into the sick man's room, where he lay pale and prostrated against his pillow.

"I can never thank you enough," she began, the pink in her cheeks deepening to a vivid scarlet. "What in the world would have become of me if you had not happened upon me?"

The invalid laughed and shook his head. "I'm glad, indeed, that I did," he answered quickly, "but—what on earth would have become of me if your kind aunt had not taken me in?"

"Then I suppose we must be quits?" She laughed merrily, showing all her dimples at once.

The other nodded. "Do you know," he asked presently, "why it was I wanted so much to see you as soon as I could?"

"Won't you tell me?"

"It was because once I had a little girl, with long yellow curls just like yours, and big blue eyes. You—you reminded me a lot of her that day I found you unconscious by the lake. Do you mind my telling you this?"

"No—oh, no. And your little girl—where is she now? She is not—is she?"

"She is not dead. But—"

Winifred looked at him suddenly, with wide, bewildered eyes.

"I—I lost her," the man explained after a pause, and the little girl did not question him further.

"My mamma will be home tomorrow," she remarked, in a change of tone, "and I want you to meet her. She—oh, you don't know how grateful she will be to you. I—she hasn't any one but me," she added quickly.

"Have you no father?" he questioned gently.

Winifred shook her pretty gold head slowly back and forth. "Not now," she said.

"Never mind. I oughtn't to have asked you. Won't you tell me something about that—Mamma?"

"She is the dearest, best and most beautiful creature in all the world!" Winifred broke out, an uplifted smile on her dainty, flushed face. "Everybody loves mamma. She is so good and kind and true."

The sick man nodded, not trusting himself to speak. He watched her in silence as she unfastened the locket from a long gold chain and held it out to him.

"So this is—your mother?" he asked, after a long, long pause.

There was a long silence, during which, the door opened and closed on noiseless hinges and some one came softly into the room.

"Mamma!"

"My little sweetheart!" The woman clasped her arms about the child and held her in a long, fervent embrace. When she looked up, a pair of dark, eager eyes were fixed upon her.

"This is the gentleman who saved my life, mamma. Aren't you?" But the look on her mother's face interrupted her.

"Katharine! For God's sake don't turn away from me now. I—I am a different man. Heaven knows I will try to be worthy of you if you will come back to me and give me one more chance!"

The woman had buried her face in her hands, and her body shook with sobs. When she looked up, her eyes were moist. "I am a different woman, too, dear," was all she said. But it seemed to be enough—at least to Winifred—and to Winifred's father. (Copyright by Daily Story-Pub. Co.)

Prayer Books in Congress.

Washington, July 8.—For the first time in its history the House today was supplied with a prayer book issued from the government printing office. The volume consists of 137 pages and contains the prayers delivered by Rev. Henry N. Couden, chaplain of the House, each morning during the Sixty-Second congress before the active business of the legislative day began.

Speaker Clark has written the fore word for the little volume, which was in the morning mail of members today.

In the preface the speaker refers feelingly to Dr. Couden and declares that congress never would have ordered the prayers published at public expense had they not been "full of piety, sympathy and philanthropy." Continuing, Mr. Clark says:

"They are earnest, helpful, hopeful. In publishing this little book, we think we are rendering a public service and we send it forth with our blessings upon the blind chaplain," who occupies a warm place in our hearts."

Saves Life, But Loses Foot.

Guthrie, Ok., July 8.—Leaning his body far from the track so as not to be struck by the moving train at Warwick yesterday fireman Charles Hotchkiss, aged 27, of Sapulpa, remained in that position and watched car after car of a freight train grind his right foot into a pulp. He was running to lock a switch when his foot caught in the frog. Later his foot was amputated.

TONIGHT AT CITY HALL

EVERY MAN AND WOMAN INTERESTED IN ADA URGED TO COME.

Every citizen of Ada is urged to be present at the meeting of the Commercial Club and the Civic and Cemetery Association at the City Hall this evening.

The city is now in Holland's Cleanest Town Contest. To win the prize in this contest will be an achievement of which the people of any city should justly be proud. Ada has many natural advantages that should enable us to win in this contest provided we are willing to do a little hard work.

Ada's beautiful, well drained location has often been commented upon; we have an abundant supply of the best water in the state, as everyone knows; our school buildings are unexcelled; our miles of concrete sidewalks and many shade trees speak well for the progressive spirit of the city. All that remains for us to do in order to win in this contest is to fully develop the advantages that God and the early citizens of the town have given us. If we will fight weeds, flies, filth and dust for the next two months, we will win this contest.

Come out to the City Hall tonight and let's get busy.

M. C. WILSON,
Vice Pres. Ada Commercial Club.

Beautiful Women.

Nothing adds more to the beauty of women than luxuriant hair. The regular use of Meritol Hair Tonic will keep the hair healthy, promote its growth, keep it clean and bright, and gives it that wavy appearance so much admired. Ramsey Drug Co., sole agents.

Always Fairy Tales.

There has never been a language spoken that has not been used for telling fairy tales. Whether in hot lands or cold, among savages or the most cultivated nations—why, not a moment passes in which some one, somewhere, is not telling a fairy tale, or listening to one, or reading one, or perhaps writing a new one. Which makes it delightfully probable that we shall always have them with us, however scarce the fairies may have made themselves in these prosaic and practical days.—St. Nicholas.

A bad taste in the mouth comes from a disordered stomach, and back of that is usually a torpid liver.—A condition which invites disease. HERBINE is the remedy needed. It corrects the stomach and makes the liver active and regular. Price 50c. Sold by Ramsey Drug Co.

Once Exclusive Pet of Royalty. The Pekinese spaniel, or "lion dog," now so popular among dog lovers, was formerly an exclusive possession of China's rulers, and it was a capital offense to remove one of the diminutive creatures from the imperial palace. A pair of them were brought to Europe after the capture of Peking in 1860, and from these and a few others the American specimens of the breed are descended.

Under seizure by octopus. A naval diver at Toulon was suddenly attacked by a giant octopus while under water in the harbor. He gave the hoisting signal and was hauled to the surface, together with the octopus, whose tentacles, said to be 25 feet long, were wrapped around him. The diver was unconscious. The octopus held fast to the diver until it was stabbed to death. It weighed 135 pounds, and the suckers on its tentacles were as big as half-dollar pieces.—London Mail.

FREEDOM FOR "BLACK BART"

Marquette, Mich., July 8.—"Black Bart" Holshay, whose criminal career was one of the most spectacular ever recorded in the United States, will be released tomorrow from the Marquette prison, after having served twenty-four years of a life sentence imposed on him in 1889 for murder. His release is made possible by legislation enacted two years ago, which extends the benefits of the parole law to convicts under-going life sentence.

Holshay is now 47 years old. When he was received at the prison he was illiterate and possessed a record as a desperado, stage coach and train robber. He gave the prison much trouble during the first few years, but following a surgical operation his character changed completely and he became a model prisoner. He has since been a student and has given himself a good education. For many years he has been the prison librarian and photographer.

Because of his swarthy appearance and ill kept beard Holshay gained the name of "Black Bart" the bandit, and under that sobriquet he became notorious as the most picturesque criminal in the histories of Wisconsin and Michigan—the terror of two states. His exploits in the woods of northern Michigan rivaled those of Jesse James. A peaceful lumberjack for a long while, he suddenly broke into a series of crimes which continued until the mention of his name struck terror to the hearts of travelers in the north woods. Stages were stopped one after the other on their trips between the lumber camps and the town and their passengers held up, the mail sacks rifled and every article of value stolen.

Finding stage coaches too tame, Holshay took to holding up trains, going through the coaches and robbing every passenger. Large rewards were placed on his head by the government and the railroads, but he was fearless and was not captured. The rewards grew as his depredations continued until they totaled the sum of $2,500. Every man in the woods was watching for him, but when Holshay appeared in their camps and demanded food they feared to lay hands upon him.

Holshay's career of crime continued unmolested, banks, stores, trains, stage coaches and private houses alike falling into his hands and getting out again with less than they possessed before. Finally Holshay planned to hold up the stage which passed Lake Gogebic, learning that several Chicago bankers, among them A. E. Fleischbein, were to be on board. He stopped the coach and demanded the money from the bankers. Fleischbein reached his hand into his pocket, but instead of cash he pulled out a revolver. Before he could shoot the bandit had fired and Fleischbein fell, mortally wounded. A second man tried to resist, but Holshay shot him also, searched the men and got away.

The authorities of two states took up the pursuit. Trains were watched and stages guarded. But for a long time Holshay evaded his pursuers. He slept in the woods, only going to the villages for necessary food.

It was when he went to Republic that the bandit was captured. Village Marshal Glode recognized "Black Bart," and, aided by several men, lured Holshay to an upstairs room. There all pounced upon the bandit. It took three men to bind the desperado after he had made a fierce fight and attempted to shoot his captors.

In his cell Holshay was as fearless as he was holding up a train or a coach. On one occasion he stole a table knife, sharpened it on the floor of his cell, and held one of the guards at bay in his cell when he came to take the prisoner to work. Many other times he gave the officials much trouble during the early years of his confinement. Finally the physicians decided that he was insane and he was sent to the asylum at Ionia. There he was operated upon, and then returned to Marquette.

Since the operation Holshay has been a different man. He has given no trouble whatever, his demeanor has been as gentle as that of a child, and all his time when not at work has been devoted to reading. He is familiar with the history and politics of every nation and has written many essays on sociological and philosophical subjects. He invested the small earnings he had saved in copper stocks and his savings jumped to several thousands, with the help of Warden Russell, who placed his money for him. He is now an expert in the doings of the market. It is believed he has saved enough money to keep him the rest of his days. He probably will go to live with relatives in Wisconsin.

BANK FAILURE AT PITTSBURG

Pittsburg, July 7.—Differences of long standing with the treasury department concerning the character and value of certain assets of the former First National bank of Pittsburg, which was merged with the Second National Bank of Pittsburg last March under the title of the First-Second National Bank of Pittsburg culminated this morning in the closing of the institution by order of Deputy Comptroller of the Currency T. P. Kane.

Directors and officers of the institution were in conference yesterday and last night with special bank examiners. Early this morning notices were posted on the bank doors that it had been ordered closed. The Pittsburg clearing house association has taken charge of the situation generally and announced that no further trouble is expected.

None of the officials of the bank would make a statement this morning announcing that affairs were in the hands of the government officials.

To Make Rubber From Waste. That artificial rubber can be made from waste cotton, especially the bolls that fall to ripen, is the claim of a Philadelphia scientist.

Be Modest.

Never seem to affect the character in which you wish to shine. Modesty is the only sure bait when you angle for praise. By modesty I do not mean timidity and awkward bashfulness. On the contrary, be inwardly firm and steady, know your own value, but take care to let nobody discover that you know it. Whatever real merit you have, other people will discover and people always magnify their own discoveries, as they lessen those of others.—Lord Chesterfield.

Spilling Children.

Little children give their mother the headache; but if she lets them have their own way, when they grow up to be great children they will give her the headache. Fondness spoils many, and letting little faults alone spoils more. Gardens that are never weeded will grow very little worth gathering. All watering and no hoeing will make a very bad crop. A child may have too much of its mother's love and in the long run it may turn out that it had too little.—G. H. Spurgeon.

the next eight years. At a farewell dinner given the family more than 200 neighbors and friends attended. Tickets for the family, via Russia, cost $1,300.

The Oklahoma fish and game department will recognize the new federal laws relative to open seasons on game as supreme and has so informed hunters throughout the state. The federal law makes a closed season on many of the migratory birds and water fowls from December 16 to September of next year, thus prohibiting the duck hunting in the spring of the year.

Committees are beginning to plan for the cattlemen's convention to be held in Oklahoma City next March. The executive committee will hold a meeting in November, at which time many of the plans will be perfected, and an official program made. It is estimated now that not less than 5,000 stockmen from Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and other adjoining states will attend.

KANSAS EX-SENATOR CLAIMED BY DEATH

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 3.—John Martin, former United States senator from Kansas, died at his home here today, after nine weeks' illness.

Three times Martin was the Democratic nominee for governor of Kansas, but never was elected. In 1892 he was responsible for fusion in Kansas, when the democratic state convention indorsed the populist presidential and state ticket. In the following year Martin was elected to fill the unexpired term of Senator Preston B. Plumb.

Martin has been active in Kansas politics ever since he came to the state in 1857. He was an officer of the first territorial legislature, held at LeCompton. A general physical breakdown caused his death.

PUBLIC HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Our Public School System is said to be the foundation of our great republic, and all Americans are justly proud of it. Our State provides for the education of all of its citizens as a measure of self protection with a compulsory school law, but fails to cognize the physical welfare of its school children by providing for medical inspection of schools. The school can be made, and it should be made the safest place in the community for your children. Medical inspection, when properly conducted, would keep out contagious diseases and at the same time protect the child from such diseases as diphtheria, scarlet fever, sore throat, etc.

We forget that our public school is a public trust and that the parent has a right to demand of the school authorities that their children be safe from harm while attending; that the child itself has a right to demand this protection. When our schools open this fall each teacher should endeavor to ascertain whether any of the pupils come from homes where there is case of contagious or infectious disease. They should see that their school room is in a sanitary condition. The school board should see that the heating, lighting and ventilating systems are satisfactory, and that the water supply is pure.

The parent owes it to the child to determine the cause for any unsatisfactory progress in its studies during the past year. They should closely observe the child and see if it has difficulty in breathing through the nose, or if there is a chronic nasal discharge, frequent sore throats, stuffy speech, earache, partial deafness in one or both ears, pale or anaemic stunted growth, red eyes or frequent headache. Should any of these conditions be found take the child to your doctor for an examination of the eyes, ears, nose and throat. You will frequently find that the child has adenoids, defective hearing or impaired vision. These are easily corrected and when accomplished you will have made it possible for the child to become normal. It will experience no more trouble in keeping up with its class than other children. A teacher can take set of Snelling's test type and find nearly every child in their school room that has defective vision; with an ordinary sounding watch they can detect every child that has impaired hearing. They can also detect neglected teeth by inspecting the teeth of each child, noting the lack of care on the part of the child. All these things can be done for the pupil without regular medical inspection.

A remedy that the doctor is not afraid to use on himself is one the laymen need not be afraid of. During the past month many physicians have been vaccinated for typhoid fever. If typhoid fever is prevailing in your neighborhood, your protection lies in being vaccinated. It has been thoroughly and satisfactorily proven that vaccination for this disease is every bit as successful as vaccination for small pox.

There is a common belief that adults do not have diphtheria. This is very erroneous. Adults have the disease and are frequent carriers of the disease germ. There is a woman 62 years old in Oklahoma who has had the diphtheria for the past six months and can communicate this disease today notwithstanding the fact that she has had administered to her ninety thousand units of antitoxine.

McALESTER OFFERS TO LEAVE WITH CRUCE

Oklahoma City, Ok., Sept. 4.—"I do not want to be the cause of any man suffering a displeasure," said Lieut.
Gov. J. J. McAlester discussing the christening of the battleship Oklahoma, scheduled for next July, "and if Gov. Cruce wants to attend the ceremonies, I will gladly accept his invitation and go along. This would place Senator C. B. Kendrick in charge of the state, and no fear may be entertained about my being on the job. I offered to accompany Gov. Cruce to the conference of Governors held in Colorado Springs s he could attend, but my offer was not accepted."

Col. McAlester visited Oklahoma City today for the first time since he was Acting Governor during the absence of Gov. Cruce from the state thirty days ago. Business with a state department brought him from McAl-ester this time, he said, and he expected to return tonight.

Col. McAlester said it was not settled that he would be in the race for Governor next year. In the winter he will call a meeting of his friends at McAlester, many of whom will be members of the senate, of which the Colonel is presiding officer, and the subject of his candidacy is to be discussed.

"The opinion of my friends will more than likely be controlling," said the Colonel.

NOTICE OF MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS AND DIRECTORS

The regular semi-annual meeting of the stockholders and directors of the News Publishing and Printing Co. will be held Tuesday, September 9, 1913, at 5 o'clock p. m. at the office of the company in Ada, Oklahoma.

BYRON NORRELL, Vice President.
M. C. GRIGSBY, Acting Secretary.

A FEW LITTLE SMILES

Odious Comparison.

"Bella and Grace are no longer friends."

"How did they happen to fall out?"
"They didn't fall out. They fell in,
and when each saw what the water had done to the other's complexion and imagined how her own complexion must look, they both got very mad and haven't spoken since."

Ominous Nonchalance.

"I sentence you to two years in prison," said the judge, severely.
"Well, judge," replied Plodding Pete, "I know you are doing this to humiliate me, but I want to remind you that some very wealthy and some very talented people have been going to prison lately."

A Desperate Character.

"This man demands a reduction in his luncheon check. He puts up a strong talk."

"What if we refuse?" said the manager of the fashionable New York hotel.

"Then he threatens to take advantage of the bankruptcy act."

Hard to Explain.

"Miss Perkins says you are a splendid conversationalist."

"I wonder how she got that idea."

"Oh, you're too modest."

"Not at all. I was wondering how she reached the conclusion that I could talk when she never lets me put in a word edgewise."

Rara Avis.

"A likeable fellow, Wigley. Everybody seems to have a good word for him. What do you suppose is the secret charm about him that attracts
so?"

"Oh, I donno. Maybe it's because he's one of the common people and is always so modest about it."

DOES US ALL

"Oh! you don't cut much ice," she said wistfully.

But the gallant youth was a literal soul.

"I cut as little as I can," he answered; "I'm an iceman."

'Twas Fatal.

His form is still, his eyes are dim,
He's past repaving;
A motor car bore down on him,
He postponed moving.

Easy.

"You never hear of a wealthy bachelor being run over by an auto."

"That's so; I wonder why it is?"

"To a man who is used to dodging mothers with marriageable daughters dodging automobiles is child's play."

Wondering.

"That new suit of hers has me guessing."

"What about?"

"I've been wondering whether or not there are pockets in the tails of her cutaway coat."

Whirligig of Time.

City Business Man—At last I am rich enough to retire from business.

Friend—What are you going to do?

City Business Man—I'm going to buy the old farm I ran away from and live on it.

Letting Well Enough Alone.

"I am going to make that boy stop whistling!" said the nervous man.

"Don't. If you knew the words of that song you'd be thankful to let him whistle it instead of singing it."

Main Crop.

"There are so many things I was disappointed to find I couldn't raise on my farm."

"I would be satisfied if I could only raise the mortgage on mine."

Note of Alarm.

Landlady—Mr. Snipe, is it true the papers say there is going to be a reduction made in the tariff on prunes?
Boarder (hastily)—I hope not!

LIGHTNING RIDGE NO 2

Everybody is picking cotton, dry weather still holds on, which will soon open all of the cotton.

Walter Coffey is very sick with an intermittent fever.

Mr. Backus and Mrs. Collier were baptized Sunday by the Mormons near Knox.

Several of the people of our neighborhood went to the baptizing at Knox Sunday.

Our school closed Friday. Miss Griffith treated the pupils to candy Friday afternoon, everybody seemed to like her and we will welcome her back for the winter school.

Mr. Will Coffey and Miss Berl Reynolds stole a march on their friends, also Miss Berl's parents, and were married Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at Bro. Solomon's home, Bro. Solomon officiating. The writer joins in wishing them happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Tipton and sons also Bradford Husband of Center spent the day with M. R. Dalley and family Sunday.

Center-Lanham Happenings.

Mr. Felix Raney, who has been in the Walpole home six months, left Saturday for Stratford, where he accepted a position at the Choctaw gin.
J. W. Manning and son Brock, Earle Parker, Misses Leona Copeland and Bertie Grisham, Mr. Griffith's family also Walpoles, attended Sunday services of the Fifth Sunday meeting of the Missionary Baptists at Egypt. The next Fifth Sunday meeting will convene at Francis.

Mr. and Mrs. Snow Dunnegan have a new baby boy in their home. All joing nicely but Mr. Snow, and his neighbors say they have to look after him very cautiously.

Miss Ethel Gaar's summer school closed Friday, at East Lanham, where she has had very successful work for two months. She will teach the winter term.

Miss Garnet Griffith came home Friday from her summer school at Lightning Ridge, where she will rest a week, then go to Ada, where she will enter school again the second Monday.

Mr. Saunders was at Oklahoma City last week, with his brother, who was taken there from Roff to the hospital but with all the attention and care, death came. Mr. Saunders wishes through the columns of the News to extend his heartfelt thanks to the good people of Roff for their kindness and patience in caring for the remains of deceased brother, who was sent back for interment.

Mr. Vaughter of Ada, passed through en route to Stratford Monday.

JESSE

Still very dry and hot, no fall plowing done. Cotton is prematurely opening and appears to be about half or more ready to pick. Help can hardly be got at any price to take care of the crop.

Rene F. Colston just closed a very successful revival of two weeks with seventeen conversions, and six additions to the church. At the close of the meeting they organized a Sunday School with Mr. Obed Shackelford Superintendent. Other officers and teachers will be elected next Sunday.

A gloom was cast over the entire community by the killing of J. N. Ross Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock, at his ranch 3 1/2 miles south. The funeral services were conducted by the Masonic order of Pontotoc and the I.O.O.F., the Odd Fellows having charge at the home and until they got to the grove. The Masons of Stone wall assisted Pontotoc Lodge in a very solemn ceremony. Rev. G. F. Colston officiating in the religious services, at Jesse Cemetery Monday afternoon about four o'clock. Mrs. Comes a sister of the deceased living at Sunset, Tex. missed connection and did not get here until after the funeral.

Mr. Charles Moran of Roff while attending the funeral had the misfortune to cripple his car and his driver, Mr. Paul Womack took it to Ada for repairs, before the family could return home.

Mr. J. A. Pryor and family passed through on their return of a two weeks trip in the southern part of the state, only stopping over a few days.

Mrs. Lucile Loman of Osage visited her parents family Mr. W. J. Baugh, returning home Saturday accompanied by her mother-in-law Mrs. T. T.
Loman and miss Mary Nell Baugh, her sister, who will attend school there this term.

FITZHUGH

Well there are lots of people picking cotton. There has been a good many bales of cotton brought to the gin.

The weather is still hot and dry down here.

Grandma Hennigan is still at the point of death.

Sterling and David Ballard have returned to Fitzhugh.

Henry Ann Charlie Woodward have gone to Texas.

School started Monday with small attendance.

A rare opportunity to make an inexpensive trip west or northwest will be

September 25th to October 10th

On these dates one-way tickets will be on sale to Arizona,
British Columbia, California, Colorado, New Mexico, Oregon, Washington and intermediate points at LOW COLONIST FARES via.

Plan now to take advantage of these low fares. For any information ask nearest Katy agent, or address,

SCHULTE--TIMBERLAKE

Wednesday evening at 9:30, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Olivia Timberlake, the marriage of Mr. W.
F. Schulte and Miss Mildred Timberlake was solemnized, Rev. C. B. James pastor of the First Christian church officiating. The couple has gone to Colorado Springs, where they will spend a short time.

It has been the fortune of the writer to know the bride since she was a small girl in the primary grades of the High school at Burnet, Texas. Even at that early age she possessed the studious and lovable disposition and ambition which as she grew to womanhood developed into a strong personality and sense of loyalty to duty that made friends of all who came in contact with her. Throughout the time she was employed in the primary department of the Ada schools and as director of that department in the training school of the East State Central Normal, her influence for good was felt not only in Ada but wherever students of the normal have gone forth to teach, for her work was done with a zeal and thoroughness that made a deep impression. It is fortunate indeed for the community that in her new sphere she will continue to live in Ada where she will still be a power in all movements having for their object the uplift of the citizenship.

The fortunate groom is a successful young attorney, who came to Ada from Missouri some three or four years ago. His standing as a member of his chosen profession and as a man are all that one could desire and he is also a man capable of fully appreciating the value of the prize he has won as a companion. In their home happiness will reign supreme.

MEETING OF CONFEDERATE VETERANS SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The Confederate Veterans will hold their regular monthly meeting at the court house Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock sharp. At this meeting delegates, sponsor and maids of honor for the state reunion at Muskogee will be elected. The Sons and Daughters are also invited to be present at this meeting and elect their delegates.

Mrs. Fred Childress and little son,
"D. T." are here from Ada visiting her mother, Mrs. D. T. Nisbit, and other relatives.—Ardmoreite.
